OBSERVATIONS

In March.

(By DALLAS LORE SHARP.)
The willow gleam with silver light;
The maples crimson glow in winter's cast.
The first faint streaks on winter's cast.

Far-off and low.
The northward geese, with winged wedge,
Have split the frozen skies,
And called the way for weaker wings.

Where midnight lies,
Today a warm wind wakes the marsh;
I hear the hilly peep
And hear the pebbly fowl, unbound,
The waters leap.

The larks beat from the sheltered fold;
Low whispers spread the hills:
The rustle of the spring's soft robes
The forest fills.

The night, ah! me! fierce flies the storm
Across the dark dead world;
The swift snow swirls, and silence falls
On stream and fold.

All white and still lie stream and hill—
The winter dream and dream!
Then from the skies the bluebird flies
And—spring is here!

L. OST OPPORTUNITY.

The Legislature lost an opportunity last week to put itself on record as being against the night riding and lawlessness which has disgraced the state in the tobacco district. Senator Carleton's measure making the counties responsible for damages in case of injury to person or property resulting from mob violence last week was called out of committee, and given its death blow after an earnest, able and impassioned argument in its favor by the Louisville Senator. This action confirms the suspicion that there are men in the Legislature who are anxious to protect the night riders in their reign of terror.

The defeat of the bill is an encouragement to lawlessness on the part of deprecating bands and a consolation to weak, unfaithful and possibly, conniving county officials whose hands are not raised to enforce the statutes against rioters and incendiaries. Senator Carleton was justified in his belief that the passage of the measure would do much to stay the epidemic of turbulence and stimulate the activity of authorities. County taxayers, knowing that they would have to foot the bills for destruction of tobacco barns and assaults upon citizens, would have been awakened to aggressive action in an effort to prevent further outrage and discover those guilty of breaking the peace. The powerful motive of self interest would have been brought into play, with a consequent organization of community forces to protect the counties from suffering for the sins of these rash and criminal men. But the Senate, led by Jack Chinn, whose tempestuous bluster was never turned to worse account, has said to the county authorities, "Continue your attitude of lethargy and indifference. We will not hold you responsible for these crimes. Let Kentucky be ravaged; let her industries be destroyed; let her citizens be whipped, and her homes riddled with bullets. Nobody is to blame; least of all you who are directly charged with the prevention of these wrongs."

A severe cold that may develop into pneumonia over night, can be cured quickly by taking Foley's Kidney and Bladder Remedy, the most effective remedy for colds and coughs.

Asked To Be Arrested.

Alfred Walsh, aged 35 years, who says he comes from Lebanon, Ky., walked up to Patrolman Zell yesterday morning at Third Avenue and K Street, asking that he be locked up for sleep-keeping from him.

Walsh declared that he had had nothing to eat for several days and that he felt himself in the midst of a nervous collapse.

"I am afraid of throwing myself under some passing train," he said.

The policeman took him to the county jail, where he was lodged under a charge of disorderly conduct.

He was presented in the Police Court and his case continued until Saturday in order that he might recover from this attack. Walsh himself declared that he did not know the cause of his present malady, but thought that with proper food and care he would recover in a few days.

He said that he had been out of employment for a long time, but that he has a father, John Walsh, a well-to-do citizen of Lebanon.—Louisville Times.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of Grippe or acute Cold that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer? The Doctor's supreme confidence in these little Cough Cold Cure Tablets—Preventives—is certainly complete. It's a $100, against 25 cents—remember it. And Preventives, remember, contains no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 48 Preventives 25c.

New Organization.

Danville can now congratulate herself as keeping abreast with the tendencies of the age in more ways than one. Twenty-five young men have banded themselves together in an organization known as "The Anti-Big Juice Club," the object of which is the fostering of total abstinence from all intoxicating beverages.

Stringent rules have been promulgated and adopted by the club, and the admission fee is fifty cents. Whenever a member is caught taking a drink he forfeits the sum of three dollars, which goes into a general fund for the maintenance of the organization. The president and officers are well known young men, but for reasons best known to themselves, are withheld from the press. The club is in the midst of a drive to place a public house in Danville, where you know it is utterly impossible to obtain a drink.—Kentucky Advocate.

Given Up To Die.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections, which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was cured. Why not let it help you? Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store."

Prominent Farmer Dead.

Mr. James A. Higdon of Woodlawn, died Thursday morning after an illness of two months of heart trouble aged about 68 years. Mr. Higdon was a prominent farmer, and for many years was a stock trader and was well known throughout the county. He served as a Federal soldier during the civil war. His wife formerly Miss Courtney, and two daughters, Mesdames R. L. Smith and George Reidel and two sons, Messrs. William and John Higdon survive him. The funeral services were held at the residence Friday morning at eleven o'clock by Rev. R. B.

Kentucky Saddle Horse.

Major David Castleman, of Shakerston, addressed the students of the Agricultural Department of the State College at Lexington Tuesday on the subject of "The Kentucky Saddle Horse." Major Castleman delivered this lecture at the request of Professor J. J. Hooper. Major Castleman reviewed briefly the history of this breed, and stated that the young men could not enter into a more lucrative enterprise than that of breeding saddle horses. The market is unlimited and the prices rule as high on an average as for any horse bred in America. The Kentucky horse has a peculiar market, in that he is a serviceable horse, and at the same time becomes more of a friend to his owner than any other horse. He is intensely intelligent and is useful both for driving and riding, and any horse should be trained for both purposes. There are several of the students pursuing the animal husbandry course, who expect to enter directly into the breeding of saddle horses upon the completion of their college course, and after his lecture Major Castleman was besieged by numerous questions from the young men in regard to the training, breeding and management of the horse.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Prathers Creek

Well as news is very scarce this week we will ask to be excused.

There has been considerable complaint with the farmers of this section with their lambs and old sheep, some of them have had good luck and some have had bad luck, but I reckon from all accounts there have been more old sheep lost than there have been for some time. It seems that there is a disease among them and some call it pink-eye. In conversation with one neighbor he says that he had lost ten old sheep and about thirty lambs, while some say they have lost at least one half of their lambs.

It seems as the way of corn selling at $3.50 per barrel and hogs at 9c do not come pond very much. It seems that there are plenty of people looking for corn but there is not any for sale, and corn at these prices a man cannot feed it to anything and come out on it.

Mr. G. T. Mayes and wife visited the family of James Mayes Thursday.

Mr. S. M. Mayes and family spent Saturday and Sunday with his father, Mr. J. H. Mayes.

Mr. John Russell and wife were the guests of W. H. Whitehouse Sunday.

Mrs. John Barker spent Thursday with her son, G. D. Barker.

Miss Lottie Best, of Long Run, spent several days last week with her cousin, Miss Margie Christerson.

Misses Nettie and Martha Graves of near Jenkinsville were the pleasant guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Mayes.

We are very sorry to say that Mrs. J. H. Mayes is not improving.

J. M. Christerson, of Stewart, was over to see his brother, G. H. Christerson last Friday.

The few days of last week made considerable changes in wheat and grass, and according to old peoples saying a late late Easter for an early spring. Easter is later this year than usual, as it comes the 19th of April.

There has been scarcely any farm work done in this section this winter and spring. People out this way are still discussing the tobacco question. I reckon the last crop in this section was sold last week. While some say they are going to burn tobacco beds while others say they are not under the circumstances. While I think that people had better consider what would be best, to raise or not to raise this year and if it be for the best not to raise any tobacco I think we should all say amen to it.

Mr. P. D. Harmon sold his crop of tobacco to W. B. Hatchett & Co., of Mackville, for 9c.

We are very much pleased to see our new correspondent from Long Run, hoping that they will still continue to write the news and may their letters in cease to help out the dear old NEWS-LEADER.

Telephone Case.

Court of Appeals, by Judge Settle, affirmed in part and reversed in part, the Washington Circuit Court in the Cumberland Telephone Company vs. Cartwright Caelek Telephone Company. Appellant owns a telephone franchise in Springfield and Washington county. Appellees built a line on Smith's Mill road and entered a contract with appellee to connect. Appellant, after the construction, refused to connect the wires of appellee, though an offer was made to pay $2 per telephone for the service. The lower court awarded $1,000 damages for breach of contract and issued an order requiring appellant to connect this court sustains the latter and remands the case as to damages, directing that only actual damages be found.—Lou Times.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol for Dyspepsia: "R. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago, Ill. Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach I lost 25 pounds in fact I made, to my mind that I could not live but a short time when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and I was better 'in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I kept a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Good Men.

The State Bank and Trust Company, at its regular meeting Friday, elected Messrs. Varner, Divine and W. B. Hatchett to fill vacancies in the board of directors. This institution is fortunate in securing two such men. Mr. Divine is one of the solid men of the county, and Mr. Hatchett, who recently came to Mercer from Washington county, has brought valuable property here. He has had large experience as a director, having served for a number of years as director in the First National Bank of Springfield and more recently served as vice-president of the Bank of Mackville.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Drink Cure.

Fish brine is the cure for strong drink administered by Lexington's Police Judge, John Riley. Judge Riley says after a drunkard has swallowed a quantity of fish brine under his directions he will lose his taste for whiskey, and now when a prisoner is brought before him in a drunken condition he gives him the alternative of going to the workhouse or drinking a pint of fish brine. In some cases the prisoner prefers the workhouse, but a few have taken the draught and Judge Riley says none have come back the second time.

He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it gave prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. ## CHESTNUT DARE CHESTNUT DARE is a large handsome saddle and harness horse with size, style, bone, substance, finish and conformation. He combines the blood of the great Chester Dare and the renowned Chief family. His sire is Chester Dare 10 and his dam by Red Chief, he by Clark Chief, the sire of Harrison Chief, the grand sire of the great Montgomery Chief and Bourbon King. A test of the breeding qualities of a horse is the sale and show ring. As to the sale ring he stood the highest priced lot of colts ever sold in Washington county. As to the show ring not one of his colts of four seasons have ever been defeated by the colts of any horse owned or farmed in country. They won every tie, blue and red (right in all) given by the Washington County Fair Association. Our last fair—his yearlings won six of the eight ribbons tied in full rings. He stood the winning two-year-old and the second premium 3-year-old harness mares in rings of seven entries. While he was shown only twice in saddle and harness rings of entries and won easily. Mr. Allen who was selected by the Fair Company and considered a fair and impartial judge sold his colts of 15 entries had more style and finish than any lot of colts ever saw in one ring. A comparison of his ring of colts to those of other horses at our own fair and other county and state fairs I ask the breeders to please notice and consider before breeding elsewhere. He not only produced sellers at weanlings but sellers and show horses as they advance in age. I again solicit the patronage of all owners of good mares in this and adjoining counties.

This horse will make the season at my place near Springfield at Intelligence of Flowers.

Maurice Macfarlane has discovered at length on the intelligence of the flowers and argues for but one prevailing mind, one intelligence and reservoir of consciousness in nature whereunto the individual plant and man have access according to his capacity.

Splendors of the Past.

Where is the real, magnificent history of the past? Where are the gardens of Semiramis or the banquets of Lucullus? Tea parties have replaced the splendid feasts, motor cars the costly coaches, cottages the palaces and tailor-made gowns the costumes of brocade and gold. Nothing today recalls the magnificence of the Italian Renaissance or of France under the three Louises.

Death of Dr. Burton.

Dr. John M. Burton for the past twenty-five years a practicing dentist and a valued citizen of this place died at the sanitarium at Batt's Creek, Mich.
on last Thursday morning. Dr.
Burton had been in failing health for nearly a year and for several weeks before his death had declined rapidly. His ailment seemed to be stomach and liver trouble complicated with heart disease. He had consulted several prominent physicians who failed to give him any relief and as a last resort he went to Battle Creek to undergo treatment at that famous sanitarium. He failed to receive any benefit however and died after being there less than a week.
His remains were shipped direct to his old home at Kirksville in Garrard county where the funeral was preached in the little church of his boyhood days. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the cemetery at Lancaster. The Lancaster Lodge of Masons took charge of the burial while the funeral sermon was preached by the regular pastor of the church.

SELF MADE MAN.

Dr. Burton was essentially a self made man. Early in life he was thrown on his own resources and as a result of his own effort and indomitable will had made for himself an enviable position both in his profession and in the business world. Just twenty-five years ago Dr. Burton came to Springfield and began the practice of dentistry. For a time he had to struggle hard against adverse circumstances but with that pluck and energy which have characterized his life he soon made his way and had accumulated considerable property at the time of his death. He was a man of a warm heart and of liberal impulses and no one need, ever appeal to him in vain for help.
Besides his parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burton of Kirksville,
Dr. Burton is survived by Dr.
George and Dr. Arthur both dentists of Texas and Mr. Fred Burton and Mrs. William Young of Danville, Ky.
